Overview of Performance and Distribution

In the period under review, NAF recorded total revenue of ¥4,498 million, operating income of ¥2,212 million, income before income taxes of ¥1,642 million and net income of ¥1,641 million. In addition to the above, NAF has decided to distribute nearly the entire amount of earnings in accordance with the Distribution Policy (Article 34 of the Articles of Incorporation) set forth by NAF. The distribution per unit was ¥14,461.

5th Period (August 2008) Overview of Investment

External Growth (Acquisition of properties)

During the period under review, NAF acquired 7 properties in March 2008 and May 2008 (total acquisition price: ¥16,755 million). As a result, NAF held 44 properties in its assets at the end of the period and the total acquisition price was ¥140,000 million.

Internal Growth (Management and operation of properties held by NAF)

NAF concentrates its investment property holdings in the 23 wards of Tokyo, where the demand for rental housing is steady and strong, and it implemented effective leasing activities in accordance with regional characteristics and the individual features of each property collaborating with Mitsui Fudosan Housing Lease Co., Ltd., the master property management company (below, "Master PM").

At the Okawabata Apartment Communities, one of the principle properties, NAF completed large-scale repairs, mostly concerning exterior walls, at the Park Side Wings. The same work for the River Point Tower had previously been completed. NAF has mostly completed its large-scale renovation of the common-use areas of the property.

Further, continuing on from the previous period, we flexibly applied the portfolio management system at the Master PM to further expedite our management and operation business and to develop tenant recruiting activities suited to the circumstances of individual properties.

As a result of the above leasing activities, which includes the start of leasing for unused buildings within Park Cube Itabashi Honcho and Park Cube Gakugei Daigaku, NAF again achieved a high average occupancy rate (96.0%) in all invested properties at the end of the 5th period.

NAF will work towards implementing measures in relation to "accommodation" services corresponding to various needs, in accordance with the results of resident questionnaires concerning all properties implemented in the previous period.

Financial Strategy (Overview of funds procurement)

NAF borrowed a total amount of ¥16,800 million from multiple financial institutions for the March 2008 and May 2008 new acquisition of properties. As a result, total interest-bearing debt at the end of the period under review reached ¥81,000 million with a 55.2% LTV (loan-to-value ratio). Also, the long-term, fixed-rate loans to total interest-bearing debt ratio at the end of the period was 64.2%.

To diversify fund procurement methods, a shelf-registration statement of investment corporation bonds in public offering was filed at the Kanto Local Finance Bureau in July 2007. An overview of the shelf-registration statement is given below. The remaining balance of the planned issuance amount at the end of the period is ¥90,000 million.

Planned issuance amount	Up to ¥100,000 million
Scheduled period of issuance	From July 18, 2007 to July 17, 2009
Purpose for funds	Acquisition of new specified assets (same meaning as defined in Article 2, Paragraph 1 of the Investment Trust and Investment Corporation Act of Japan), repayment of borrowings, repayment of tenant security deposit, payments for maintenance and renovation, and operational use

Rating of NAF as of August 31, 2008 is as follows.

Rating agency	Rating subject	Rating
Moody's Investors Service Inc.	Issuer credit rating	A 1 (Outlook for rating: Stable)
Rating and Investment Information, Inc.	Issuer credit rating	A A (Trend of rating: Stable)
Standard and Poor's	Long-term corporate Short-term corporate	A + (Outlook for rating: Stable) A -1

Forecasts of Investment Performance

The forecasts for the 6th period (from September 1, 2008 to February 28, 2009) are as follows.

(in millions of yen, rounded down; except as noted)
Total revenue	4,543
Income before income taxes	1,642
Net income	1,642
Distribution per unit (yen)	14,470
Distribution in excess of earnings per unit (yen)	—

Notes: Underlying assumptions of forecasts

Investment assets: NAF is assuming the number of properties at the end of the 6th period will be unchanged (by, for example, acquisition of new properties or sale of existing properties) from 44 properties, which was the current number as of October 15, 2008.

Interest-bearing debt: NAF is assuming interest-bearing debt at the end of the 6th period will be unchanged from ¥81,000 million, which was the current interest-bearing debt as of October 15, 2008.

Number of units issued: A quantity of 113,480 units outstanding as of October 15, 2008 (assumption of no additional unit issuance) is assumed.

The forecasts are the figures calculated based on the above assumptions at the time of preparation of this information. Therefore, actual total revenue, income before income taxes, net income, distribution per unit and distribution in excess of earnings per unit may be subject to change due to acquisition or sale of properties in future, fluctuation in the real estate market or other changes in the environment in which NAF operates. Accordingly, the forecasts are not a guarantee of any cash distribution amount.

Management Policy and Issues for the 6th Period Onward

NAF has always aimed to maximize its unitholder value through investments in accommodation properties and the utilization of the Mitsui Fudosan Group as well as the formulation and management of a high quality portfolio centered on rental residential properties located in the 23 wards of Tokyo.

From the 6th period onward, we aim to manage our portfolio stably based on the above-mentioned policies and further increase our unitholder value by achieving internal and external growth expectations.

External Growth (New acquisition of properties)

In addition to utilizing our pipeline to the Mitsui Fudosan Group and acquiring sales information on residential rental properties, we will strive to rapidly obtain the best real estate information possible by fortifying our independent information channels. Our property acquisition strategy will be to stably expand our portfolio based on the Park Axis Series to be acquired from Mitsui Fudosan Co., Ltd. in addition to the Park Cube Series constructed by other developers. Moreover, we will aim to realize solid property acquisitions while avoiding excessive price wars through individual strategies such as increasing our single-occupant, compact, residential property ratio for which a high occupancy rate is expected, widening the geographic area of our holdings within the 23 wards of Tokyo and carefully selecting properties for investment in the major cities of regional areas.

We will also work towards effectuating high quality due diligence when acquiring properties in order to avoid risk in an effort to increase the profitability of our portfolio.

Internal Growth (Management and operation of leasehold properties)

NAF will aim to improve its rent levels and occupancy rate through the formulation and implementation of a leasing strategy that takes into account the characteristics of each individual property with the objective of maximizing rent revenues over the mid- to long-term. NAF will review the adequacy of the grade of property management and cost of management and operation as to each invested property in an appropriate timeframe and manner and reduce cost by the rational review of management cost by utilizing the merits of outsourcing all property management tasks to the Master PM. NAF is continuously aiming for the maintenance and enhancement of the market competitiveness of Okawabata Apartment Communities by implementing strategic renovation of principally private-use areas.

Further, with the help of Mitsui Fudosan Co., Ltd., NAF will work to establish brand power by concentrating on the market penetration of the “Park Axis” brand, NAF’s main invested asset, and the further enhancement of name recognition on the rental housing market.

Financial Strategy

NAF will continue to emphasize the continued use of long-term, fixed-rate loans taking into account measures to counter future interest rate and refinancing risks. NAF will examine future issuances of investment corporation bonds within the range of the remaining balance of the planned issuance amount based on the shelf-registration statement of NAF bonds filed in July 2007. Regarding LTV (loan-to-value ratio), the upper limit is set at 60% and targeted range during normal operations is set at approximately 40% to 50%. Additionally, NAF will examine the issuance of new units paying attention to market trends and distribution levels and taking into consideration the demand for funds for the purpose of property acquisition as well as our financial position.
